WHERE YOU COME AS A GUEST AND LEAVE AS A FRIEND

THE ANANYANA Beach Resort on the original island of Panglao exists since January 2001. After a short time word of the high standards, amiable service and individual ambience of this small, exquisite establishment has spread. Still it has remained an insider's tip for those seeking rest. Especially divers appreciate THE ANANYANA as a distinguished destination to explore the most beautiful diving spots in the heart of the Philippines.

The resort's spa, the only one of its kind on Panglao Island, is another perfectly quiet location where you can relax and slow down.

THE ANANYANA SPA PHILOSOPHY

Land and sea merge harmoniously in places of high spirituality. Earth and Water are two elements with healing properties.

staff uses natural products exclusively blended for you—and the island's intrinsic harmony contributes further to your personal wellness.

The masseurs at THE ANANYANA are Philippine specialists backed by years of experience in healing treatment. For massage is a traditional form of therapy in the villages of Bohol Island, as elsewhere in Asia. Energy exchange between the therapist and you is an essential component of the massage, and you feel the healing power of the hands as he or she carefully ministers to you.

At THE ANANYANA, a spa session always starts with a citric foot wash, while you enjoy fruit, a herbal tea and refreshing towels in your bathrobe. Our intention is to pamper and rejuvenate you, so that you can benefit fully from the rest of the day.

We provide a wide range of spa treatments, including massage rituals, body therapy rituals, healing rituals, body wraps, and facials. Every treatment is aimed at offering you an unforgettable spa experience at THE ANANYANA — and at giving you a lasting feeling of freshness, rejuvenation, and inner peace.

Individuality also characterizes THE ANANYANA DIVE CENTER. This first-class diving station is part of the resort, which guarantees flexibility, ideal service and maximum quality.

The guides and crew are experienced professionals who have been working together for many years. They can take you offshore to dive several times a day, and also offer diving courses, equipment rental, underwater excursions and night dives.

DIVE SPOTS

We'll take you to all divespots off Panglao and Bohol Islands. The reef at Doljo Point in particular belongs to THE ANANYANA BEACH RESORT

Once you've discovered the expanse of superb coral gardens in shallow water, you're sure to enjoy the main local attraction: a bizarre underwater landscape of caves, cliffs and crevices with gorgonians, soft corals and many colourful featherstars, home to fairytale animals such as dragonets, frogfishes, sea slugs, snake eels and sea snakes. The best year-round divespots are off Balicasag and Cabilao Islands, with excellent visibility and a usually mild to moderate current. The corals are in good to excellent condition, since coral bleaching is unknown and dynamite fishing is outlawed here. The waters of the Philippines are enriched by nourishing currents from the Sea of Japan, the Pacific Ocean, the South China Sea, the Indian Ocean and the Celebes Sea. The marine life of the whole Indo-Pacific region can be found in Philippine waters.

HOW TO GET THERE

THE ANANYANA is a different kind of world, yet easy to reach from the Manila and Cebu international airports. The best ways to get there are as follows:

Domestic flights bring you in just one hour to Tagbilaran, the principal city of Bohol Island. There we pick you up in an air-conditioned car and bring you to THE ANANYANA in just thirty minutes.
